The Origin of the American Flag. Root & Tinker, 102 Nassau street, New York, have sent THE REPUBLICAN on behalf of the New York Life Insurance company, a copy of an engraving called "Origin of the Stars and Stripes." The plate has on one side a fac simile of Washington's last watch seal, and of emblazoning on coach, and below these is the Washington shield, from the old manor house at Sulgrave, Southamptonshire, England, A. D. 1540. On the other side of the plate are Washington's book plate and seal, and the Washington arms and crest. The body of the plate is taken up with the genealogy of the Washington family, copies of inscriptions on Sulgrave church. The lower part of the plate gives an account of the oriof the New York Life Insurance company, a scriptions on Sulgrave church. The lower part of the plate gives an account of the ori-gin of the stars and stripes. It shows that the device of the American flag was identical with the heraldic insignia of the Washington family. In all the armonial bearings of that family stars and stripes bear a prominent part. Those ideas were communicated by Washington himself to Mrs. Ross, of Phila-delphia, who adopted and adapted them. # Banquet for the Ladies!

The Palais Royal has learned that its competitors (having done but little spring trade) are making reductions in price in order to close out. The Palais Royal has never yet been undersold. Never has been; never shall be. We will inaugurate next Monday, by a special sale, such a feast of bargains that shall long be remembered in Washington. We have done a fine business the last six months, and can afford to sell at no profit for a month or so, and we are going to do it. We shall hold during June and July two special sales in each week. Each sale will include three departments. Such prices shall be made that competition shall be absolutely defied. Our patrons are requested to visit us this week. We ask no favors, but wish the public to judge whether we carry out our promises or not.
